

OXLEY ENTERPRISES[®], INC.:

INTEGRATED SOLUTIONS...ENDURING RESULTS[®]

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Transformation Twenty-One Total Technology (T4) program is a five-year, indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity (IDIQ) multi-award task order contract that provides a total Information Technology (IT) Services Solution for the lifecycle of systems like program management and strategy planning, systems/software engineering, enterprise network, cybersecurity, operation and maintenance, and IT facilities.

VA challenges

In a world that is more global and mobile every day, VA is working against many challenges. It must support more complex activities with greater precision and more predictable outcomes than ever before. It must figure out ways to deal with fewer resources, including growing budgetary strains and smaller staffs. And of course, it must do it all under increased public scrutiny.

To ease the pressure of some of those challenges, VA Major Initiatives seek to move VA's internal IT focus from vertical lines of business to a more holistic, cross-cutting approach. This transformation will keep the direct value to the Veteran front and center while managing the impact of planned improvements across the enterprise—transforming VA into a Veteran-centric, results-driven, forward-looking 21st century organization.
